

THE
AMERICAN
MEDICAL RECORDER,
OF
ORIGINAL PAPERS AND INTELLIGENCE
IN MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

---

CONDUCTED BY

JOHN EBERLE, M. D. Philadelphia.
GRANVILLE SHARP PATTISON, Professor of Surgery in the University of Maryland.
HENRY WILLIAM DUCACHET, M. D. New-York.
JOHN REVERE, M. D. Baltimore.

---

Nullius addictus jurare in verba magistri.—HOR:

VOL. III.

---

PHILADELPHIA:

PUBLISHED BY JAMES WEBSTER, NO. 24 SOUTH EIGHTH STREET; ALSO BY T. & J.
SWORDS OF NEW-YORK, AND JAMES WEBSTER OF BALTIMORE.

William Brown, Printer.

1820.

Eastern District of Pennsylvania, to wit:

BE IT REMEMBERED, That on the second day of October, in the forty-fifth year of the Independence of the United States of America, A. D. 1820, James Webster, of the said District, hath deposited in this office the title of a book, the right whereof he claims as proprietor, in the words following, to wit:

"The American Medical Recorder, of Original Papers and Intelligence in "Medicine and Surgery. Conducted by John Eberle, M. D. Philadelphia.
"Granville Sharp Pattison, Professor of Surgery in the University of Maryland. Henry William Ducachet, M. D. New-York. John Revere, M. D.
"Baltimore. Nullius addictus jurare in verba magistri.—Hor. Vol. III."

In conformity to the act of the Congress of the United States, entitled "An act for the encouragement of learning, by securing the copies of maps, charts, and books, to the authors and proprietors of such copies, during the times therein mentioned,"—And also to the act, entitled, "An act supplementary to an act, entitled 'An act for the encouragement of learning by securing the copies of maps, charts, and books, to the authors and proprietors of such copies, during the times therein mentioned,' and extending the benefits thereof to the arts of designing, engraving, and etching historical and other prints."

D. CALDWELL,

Clerk of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.

PREFACE.

---

UNDER a patronage with which no other medical journal has ever been honoured in this country, the RECORDER has now reached the third volume. We cannot dismiss this volume, without availing ourselves of the opportunity afforded by its completion, to return our thanks to our numerous patrons; and to make our acknowledgements to the correspondents, whose valuable communications have contributed so much to its respectability and usefulness.

This volume will be found to embrace a large and valuable body of medical facts. It contains an account of all the important improvements and all the interesting discoveries which have been made, in the science to which it relates, since the period of its commencement. It will be seen, that with the design of rendering the work practically useful, we have been careful that papers founded on facts and experiments, should bear a large proportion to the body of communications; and that we have always given such a preference over theoretical and speculative essays. Our Reviews, we trust, will be found liberal without partiality, and just without rigour. In the department of Intelligence, our object has been to combine interest with variety; and we have a confidence, that we have not been altogether unsuccessful.

327910

Heretofore, we have had many difficulties to encounter; and have experienced many anxieties necessarily incidental to the commencement of every similar undertaking. The extensive circulation of the work, the continual accumulation of valuable materials, the constant extension and increasing fertility of the field, and the recent accession of strength to the editorial department, induce us to hope that our labours will hereafter be comparatively easy. In the numerous respectable contributions which we have received, we have a sure pledge of the future assistance of correspondents at home; and arrangements have been made by the publisher, by which great facilities are insured, of procuring the earliest intelligence from abroad. The plan which we have adopted in our foreign relations, secures to us frequent and extensive communications from Europe; and is not subject to the delays and uncertainties of ordinary correspondence.

CONTENTS OF VOL. III.

---

NO. I.

	Page.
EXPERIMENTAL Observations on the operation of Lithotomy. By Granville Sharp Pattison, Esq. with two plates, . . . . .	1
On the Surgical Anatomy of the Arteries. By George M'Clellan, M. D. . . . .	25
A Case of Puerperal Convulsions. By Dr. F. Strein, . . . . .	53
A Case of Tetanus. By N. W. Worthington, M. D. . . . .	55
Examination of the body of A. Michel. By J. C. Rousseau, M. D. . . . .	57
Review of Dr. Dzondi on the improvement of the Healing Art, . . . . .	57
Review of Dr. M'Nevin on the Atomic Theory, &c. . . . .	64

FOREIGN PAPERS.

Fever in Great Britain, &c. By Drs. Duncan, Clutterbuck, Percival, and Hildebrand, . . . . .	73
On the Treatment of Puriform Discharge from the ear. By J. H. Curtis, Esq. . . . .	105
On Pregnancy accompanied by Ascites. By Professor Scarpa, . . . . .	107
Observations and Examples of Phlegmasia Dolens. By Dr. Dickson, of Edinburgh, . . . . .	114
Notice of Chapman's Therapeutics, . . . . .	131
Notice of Dewees's Essay, &c. . . . .	133

ANALECTA.

Extract of a Letter to the Editor, from Dr. Albers of Bremen, . . . . .	134
Agrimony, . . . . .	ib.
Record of Mortality, . . . . .	135
Selections from Ward's History, &c. of the Hindoos, . . . . .	136
Use of Mare's Milk in Tania, . . . . .	143
New Method of Preparing Extracts, . . . . .	ib.
Extract of Hemlock, . . . . .	144
Sulphureous Fumigation, . . . . .	145
Asthma, . . . . .	147
Uric Acid, . . . . .	148
Hare's New Theory of Galvanism, . . . . .	149

NO. II.

	Page.
On Gastric Worms. By Joseph Klapp, M. D.	155
Pressure upon Tumours of the Breast. By Ezra Gillingham, M. D.	166
Caustic Potash in Tetanus. By Joel Lewis, M. D.	170
Sketches on Venereal Complaints. By J. C. Rousseau, M. D.	171
Case of a Wound of the common Iliac Artery. By Professor Gibson,	185
Two Cases of Aneurism. By Granville Sharp Pattison, Esq. with two plates,	193
The Malignant Fever of the U. States and W. Indies, in 1819,	203
The Fever in Baltimore in 1819. By John Revere, M. D.	214

REVIEWS.

Blackall on Dropsies,	239
Observations on Mr. Pattison's paper on Lithotomy,	252
Of Dr. Reese's Observations on the late Epidemic in Baltimore,	260
Of Dr. Spalding's pamphlet on Scutellaria Lateriflora,	267
Observations on a Review of Dr. Chapman's Therapeutics,	273
Hare's Calorimotor,	280

ANALECTA.

Selections from Ward's History, &c. of the Hindoos,	282
Incision of a Stricture of the Urethra,	289
Philadelphia Medical Society,	290
List of Graduates,	293

NO. III.

On the Use of Mercurial Ointment in Erysipelas. By A. T. Dean, M. D.	299
On Erroneous Notions of Duty in Insane People. By Ezra Gillingham, M. D.	308
On Hydrops Capitis Infantum. By J. C. Rousseau, M. D.	315
Observations on the parts concerned in Lithotomy. By Horatio G. Jameson, M. D.	325
Observations on certain articles of the Materia Medica. By Stephen Burgon, M. D.	331
On the Adulteration of Malt Liquors in England,	337
Case of Recovery from Drowning,	339
On the best method of removing Contractions in Limbs from Burns. By William G. Nice, M. D.	341
On the Use of Fowler's Solution in Nodes. By Samuel Colhoun, M. D.	347
Use of Prussic Acid in Phthisis. By Thomas Cooper, M. D. &c.	349

CONTENTS.

vii

REVIEWS.

	Page.
Mr. Pattison's Reply to certain Criticisms delivered against his Essay on Lithotomy, . . . . .	351
Dr. Bache's Chemistry, . . . . .	372
Reply to a Review of Spalding's pamphlet on Scutellaria, . . . . .	381

FOREIGN PAPERS.

Dr. Cheyne on Hydrocephalus; M. Vardy sur L'Hydrocephale; J. F. Coindet sur L'Hydrencéphale; Dr. Yeates on Water in the Brain; Dr. Cook on Hydrocephalus Internus, . . . . .	384
A Review of Practical Medicine, selected and arranged, with Commentaries, . . . . .	411

NO. IV.

On the Modus Operandi of Blood-letting. By H. W. Ducachet, M. D. . . . .	461
Observations on Cataract, and various modes of operating for its cure. By G. Frick, M. D. . . . .	476
A Case where Lumbrici Teres were discharged through the abdominal integuments, with observations. By P. Macaulay, M. D. . . . .	491
On Cholera Infantum. By C. D. Meigs, M. D. . . . .	498
New and Superior mode of making Mercurial Ointment, . . . . .	509
A Case of sudden death in the latter part of the ninth month of Pregnancy. By J. Revere, M. D. . . . .	512
Further remarks on the case of ligature of the Arteria Innominata. By Valentine Mott, M. D. . . . .	514
Case of extraordinary Maleformation of the Genital Organs. By H. W. Ducachet, M. D. with a Plate, . . . . .	515

ANALYTICAL REVIEWS.

Medico-Chirurgical Transactions, . . . . .	517
Memoirs and Observations concerning the good effects of the Actual Caution, &c. By Louis Valentin, M. D. &c. . . . .	526
Revue Médicale, Historique et Philosophique, . . . . .	534
Observations Pratiques sur les Fumigations Sulfureuses . . . . .	550
Blane's Elements of Medical Logic, . . . . .	558
Philosophical and Chemical Researches on the use of Prussic Acid, &c. By F. Magendi, M. D. . . . .	566
Meckel's German Archive for Physiology, . . . . .	576
Correspondence between Dr. Wilson Philip and B. C. Brodie Esq. . . . .	579

CRITICAL REVIEWS.

	Page.
An Essay on the nature and treatment of that state of disorder generally called dropsy. By John G. Whilldin, M. D. . . . .	590
Professor Hare's Calorimotor, with a plate. To the Editor of the American Medical Recorder, . . . .	606
Dr Eberle's Reply, . . . .	620
Rejoinder to a Reply to the Review of Dr. Spalding's pamphlet on the Scutellaria, . . . .	626
Cases of Morbid Anatomy. By John W. Francis, M. D. of New-York, . . . .	629

ANALECTA.

Properties of the Blood, . . . .	631
New mode of treating Nævi Materni, . . . .	632
Description of a portable Sudatorium, . . . .	ib.
Efficacy of Zinc in the cure of Diseases, . . . .	634
Blood-vessels of the Retina, . . . .	ib.
Comparative Anatomy of the Eye, . . . .	ib.
Effects of Sulphuric Acid on wood and linen, . . . .	635
Sugar of Lead in Yellow Fever, . . . .	ib.
Muscular Structure of the Urethra, . . . .	ib.
Improvement on the high operation for Lithotomy, . . . .	636
On Congenital Blindness and Deafness, . . . .	ib.
Parsley as a lotion for Erythema Mercuriale, . . . .	ib.
INDEX, . . . .	637

44

40